Of course a verbal authority would be quite sufficient. The tiffs was the letter which was written by Wong Yik Lam to the defendant, and he must adopt this as a guide to the true interpretation of the facts. If this letter was written by the broker it would orroborate the evidence of broker and strengthen his story; on the other hand if it was not written and if as the defendant suggested, was another letter altogether that was written, which the broker obtained from him afterwards by a false pretence, of course the broker's story could not be believed. The letter which Wong. Yik Lam said be wrote was sent on the 30th November, and in it the defendant was informed that the shares had been sold at $10. The defendant said that was not the letter he received on the contrary he stated that the letter which he received when he came back from Canton on the 4th Droember informed him that the shares. had been sold at $8.50. He rafused to give them. at that price, and still refused when the broker said he would make up the price to $10 out of his own pocket. His Lordship was struck with the statement made by Mr. Rogge in cross-exmention $8.50 as the price at the interview he had with him. If the letter mentioned the price as $10 it was impossible to imagine why the de-

STUDIO-ICE HOUSE LANE.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stanks unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the
